Problem statement and Elaboration: -

Let's start with our idea take an example, you are living in a small city where there is no engineering, medical, law, degree colleges, no better facility of higher education lots of student lacking the resources needs and unable to get the things they required for their academic practice like books, instrument also you know that there are numbers of students are there in the same city, they are the students of Higher education, engineering, medical students, who has the books, instruments. As they are in hometown after the completion of such so, they have all the tools, equipment that was used during their academic year and there is lots of students are lacking the resources they need also there is no use of used materials for the course completed students. They are selling the things in scrap center or to the scrap collector vendors.

And now we are near to find the solution let me take one more example related to that and experienced by me. Once me and my friend went to purchase an engineering instrument for the engineering drawing. You know what! In such district urban area, we didn't get it. Then we moved to eatery there, we googled the instrument details and found on every e-commerce site there is showing high priced and insecure product, we researched lot.

Then we realised that "NECESSITY IS MOTHER OF INVENTION" then we decided no one has .... will do it. One more thing to be noted that at that time there are huge numbers of engineering students there with their used books and instrument. Unfortunately, we came to know that MANUALLY after they came in contact with us after days.

Moreover, the books that are once used by a single student is kept in his cupboard as a memory but this increases the demand of books if we reuse books and other equipment then it will affect our ecosystem positively, we will be having lesser need of cutting trees for manufacture of books and other equipment which will decrease pollution, deforestation. There are many students who are unable to find these stuffs easily so our initiative is to make things easier, reuse books and equipment so that our country become more educated not literate because many students find it easier to make an excuse that books and equipment are not available here so we are unable to study. This will make India more educated our students have more knowledge than others.

Then we decided we will create the software that will help and monetize the students' needs at their demographic area in many effective ways. And who says "u need to be 18 to earn and give the full time to earn, just make a good decision and enjoy.

Existing facilitators: -
1. No active and un-interactive portals.
2. Time consuming service.
3. Lacks of facilities.
4. No appropriate details.
5. Redundant and old ideas of help, no popularity.
6. Overall unsatisfactory experience.
7. Overpriced items.

Idea and proposals: -

1. Find the books and instrument materials in your demographic area.
2. Find the way to earn using many ways from selling to renting.
3. No need to wait for few days to get delivered things at high prices.
4. Not just exchange of instrument, get connections to seniors.
5. Hands-on practical talk.
6. No need of extra wait time and no need to pay in logistics in your area.
7. Volunteer yourself and become helping hand and earn some reward points.
8. 100% verification and quality check by yourself (lenders, borrowers, helping hand)
9. Parent's consent for helping hand for more than 3 hrs./day utilization.
10. No age restrictions (above 16+). Fully students connected environment.
11. Subscription based model at lowest starting price minimum rate.
12. Connections to college library, book stores.
13. Books seller no need to worry students will find you.
14. Library access for their need.
15. Be the one to educate them without going anywhere to get students.
16. Get the solutions and practical session, knowledge videos, how to use the instruments. Based on your purchase get courses and recommendations.
17. Connections with coaching classes, schools, colleges nearby you or far. No need to search manually.
18. For rural area students, just help them by becoming helping hand. Donate, give at rent, sell on KitabPadhoIndia.com and get loyalties, royalties and get chance to be on portal and inspire others.
19. share the improvement before and after becoming helping hand to particular or group of students. And be the proud helping hand and motivate others.
